Maximise your Career Opportunity with Informatics!

12 January 2007 – Graduates and students of Informatics, rejoice! Informatics has developed the Global Employment Service website, exclusively for all graduates and students of the school. This service was developed to help ease pre-employment anxiety amongst graduates as well as providing an opportunity for them to gain employment beyond local shores. With collaborations with reputable international organisations such as Oracle and OPUS IT Services, graduates and students can gain access to this global employment network and have a chance to find their dream job, regardless of their geographical locations. Just by login in, they will be able to view latest jobs postings and even submit job applications online.

Apart from having their resumes posted online, students can also enjoy other value added services such as career counselling and career mapping. Experienced counsellors will provide students with advices on career related matters such as personal aspirations, work expectations, and implications of globalisation. To further ensure that our graduates are well prepared for the job hunting process, workshops on personal grooming, resume writing and interview skills will also be conducted.

For quality employment placement, graduates will be evaluated on their skills, interests and strengths so that suitable career choices or pathways can be mapped out in line with their qualifications.
